DAVID POILE PRESIDENT OF HOCKEY OPERATIONS/GENERAL MANAGER

The third-longest tenured General Manager in National Hockey League history, Nashville Predators President of Hockey Operations/General Manager David Poile has spent 31 consecutive years at the helm of a franchise (16 with Nashville, 15 with Washington) dating back to Aug. 30, 1982 when he was hired by the Washington Capitals. He is the only general manager in NHL history to be at the helm of two different clubs for 1,000 games and 500 victories, attaining both marks in 2011-12, and is the lone person to be a finalist for the General Manager of the Year Award for each of its first three years of the award's existence (2010, 2011 and 2012). Poile also added the honor of a lifetime to his resume on June 28, 2013, when he was named General Manager of the United States Olympic Team for the 2014 Winter Games in Sochi.

Poile enters the 2013-14 campaign ranked second all-time in games (2,294) by a general manager – trailing only Glen Sather (2,536) – and third in wins (1,113) behind Sather (1,221) and longtime Boston Bruins executive Harry Sinden (1,170). On March 21, 2010 at St. Louis, he picked up his 1,000th win as a general manager in a 3-2 Predators victory.

As the architect of a club built on speed, skill and steadfast work ethic, Poile's philosophy of building through home-grown talent and effective drafting continues to pay dividends, as 22 of 34 players to suit up for the Predators in 2012-13 were developed by the club, tying a franchise record set in 2011-12. That list is sure to grow after a strong 2013 Entry Draft crop, which included defenseman Seth Jones, the fourth overall selection, who Nashville had rated their No. 1 player in the draft the past two seasons.

The Predators are built around a pair of homegrown products in two-time Vezina Trophy finalist Pekka Rinne in goal – who Poile signed to a seven-year contract in November 2011 – and two-time Norris Trophy runner-up Shea Weber – who became the recipient of the second-largest contract in NHL history when Poile matched a 14-year, $110 million offer sheet in July 2012. Nashville's first-ever draft selection, David Legwand (second overall, 1998), has been a mainstay in the lineup for the last decade and a half, while gifted forwards Patric Hornqvist – the final pick of the 2005 Entry Draft (230th overall) – Colin Wilson (2008), Gabriel Bourque (2009), Taylor Beck (2009) and Craig Smith (2009) add punch to the offensive attack. Joining Weber on the blue line is fellow 2003 draftee Kevin Klein – who signed a five-year deal in September 2012 – Roman Josi (2008) – the recipient of a seven-year contract during the summer of 2013 – in addition to promising youngsters Ryan Ellis (2009), Mattias Ekholm (2009) and Jones.

Poile has also been one of the busiest GMs in recent years consistently supplementing Nashville's drafted talent with players who fit the organization's philosophy via free agency and trades. His biggest coup in recent seasons through trade came on April 3, 2013, when he acquired highly touted prospect Filip Forsberg from Washington. Forsberg, selected 11th overall in the 2012 Entry Draft, was rated the third-best player by Poile's staff, but slipped due to a run of defensemen being drafted. On the opening day of free agency on July 5, 2013, Poile was the busiest he's ever been on the open market, signing a blend of Stanley Cup-winning experience in Matt Cullen and Viktor Stalberg, with gritty role-playing forwards Matt Hendricks and Eric Nystrom. The Predators also signed goaltender Carter Hutton to back-up Rinne on Day One of free agency.

The team's newest additions are nothing new – alternate captain and top-six forward Mike Fisher was acquired from Ottawa in February 2011, and center Paul Gaustad, perennially one of the top face-off and penalty killing players in the NHL, was snagged at the 2012 trade deadline.

Under Poile's direction, the Predators have been one of the top teams in the NHL since evolving from an expansion team in the early 2000s, to a bona fide contender. Since the start of 2005-06, Nashville's 336 wins ranks sixth-best in the league, while 192 home victories puts them fourth in the NHL.

The aggressive team-building plan implemented by Poile from the franchise's inception has helped the organization earn the reputation as one of the most stable, well-built teams in the NHL. Crucial to the plan's success is the ability to make the right selections and develop the young prospects. Poile has assembled a bright staff of personnel charged with those responsibilities, including assistant general manager Paul Fenton, chief amateur scout Jeff Kealty, and a coaching staff led by Barry Trotz.

Poile has long been a proponent of a strong developmental system as a means to develop blossoming young players into productive NHL players. The Predators' primary developmental affiliate, the American Hockey League's Milwaukee Admirals, captured the first Calder Cup Championship in franchise history in 2004 and revisited the Calder Cup Finals in 2006. They made their 11th consecutive trip to the Calder Cup Playoffs in 2013, making them the only franchise to attain the feat. Milwaukee has won four division titles in the past 10 seasons and became the first team in AHL history to post 40-or-more wins and 90-or-more points in eight consecutive seasons from 2002-03 to 2010-11, each season with a team predominately made up of Predators prospects.

Poile's wisdom and experience is clearly valued throughout the hockey world, as evidenced by his selection to the post of General Manager of the U.S. Olympic Team. He was associate general manager for the 2010 United States Olympic Team, and helped select the team that would become one of the headline stories of the 2010 Games, capturing the hearts of a nation en route to a silver medal. He was a member of the U.S. National Team Advisory Group for the second consecutive International Ice Hockey Federation World Championships in 2013, helping construct a team that claimed the nation's first medal (bronze) since 2004. He also served as associate GM for the U.S.'s entries into the 2009 and 2010 editions of the tournament, and as general manager at the 1998 and 1999 Worlds.

He was also selected as one of four NHL general managers to sit on the first NHL competition committee in 2005, a spot he still holds today. The steering body formulates and recommends rule changes for approval by the NHL Board of Governors. In this role, he helped usher in the new era of NHL hockey – featuring on-ice innovations such as the regular-season shootout and more recently the grandfathering in of visors and the shallowing of nets – while at the same time drawing upon the wealth of experience accumulated through his many years in the game. The Competition Committee continues to be one of the most influential bodies in the game today.

Poile's third straight GM of the Year nomination in 2011-12 came after the team finished with a 48-26-8 record (104 points), the third-best record in the Western Conference, fifth-best in the NHL, and good for home-ice advantage in the Stanley Cup Playoffs. The 2011-12 edition of the Predators were one of only four teams to finish in the Top 10 in both goals for (eighth) and goals against (eighth), and one of three teams to rank in the League's Top 10 in both power-play percentage (first) and penalty kill percentage (10th). In 2010-11, Nashville earned the fifth seed in the Western Conference (99 points) and gave up the third-fewest goals in the League (190) despite missing nearly 350 man-games due to injury, and in 2009-10, Poile constructed a team that was one of 11 to hit the 100-point mark, despite having a payroll ranked 28th in the League, to earn a spot as a finalist for the inaugural General Manager of the Year Award.

In 2006-07, when Poile was recognized by The Sporting News as its Executive of the Year, an honor he had received twice previously (1982-83 and 1983-84) and which is determined through a vote of his peers, after the Predators finished the season with the second-most points in the Western Conference and tied for the third-most points in the entire National Hockey League. The Predators established franchise records in points (110), wins (51), road wins (23) and goals (272) during the campaign. Locally, Business TN magazine honored him as the magazine's "CEO of the Year" for 2006 based on his consistent and successful track record as the team's architect.

In 2001, Poile was a recipient of the Lester Patrick Award in recognition of contributions to hockey in the United States. Poile has devoted his professional career to hockey and the NHL, particularly in non-traditional markets. His late father, Bud Poile, also a recipient of the Lester Patrick Award (1989) and a member of the Hockey Hall of Fame (1990), served as general manager of two expansion franchises – first in Philadelphia (1967) and then in Vancouver (1970). David Poile began his professional career as an administrative assistant with the Atlanta Flames expansion franchise in 1972 and spent 10 years with the organization before being named general manager of the Washington Capitals in 1982. The 2013-14 campaign will mark his 41st in the NHL.

For the 1982-83 season, Poile took the reins of a Washington team that had never made the Stanley Cup Playoffs. In his 15 years there, the Capitals advanced to the postseason 14 times. The 1997-98 Capitals, largely comprised of players Poile acquired, advanced to the Stanley Cup Finals. During his 15-year tenure, the Caps compiled a record of 596-454-124 (.559), ranking among the NHL's top-five teams during that span.

Poile was instrumental in the League's adoption of the instant replay rule in 1991. He was awarded Inside Hockey's Man of the Year award for his leadership on the issue.

A graduate of Northeastern University in Boston, Poile was hockey team captain, leading scorer and most valuable player for two years, earning a place in the University's Hall of Fame.

Poile also serves as an alternate governor for the team and in December 2007, he added President of Hockey Operations to his title. For the past three seasons, Poile has donated to Operation Homefront (which provides emergency assistance and morale to our U.S. Troops), USA Hockey and the Peterson for Parkinson's Foundation for every Predators victory.

He and his wife, Elizabeth, reside in Nashville. The Poiles have two children – daughter Lauren and son Brian – who serves as the Predators Director of Hockey Operations – and two granddaughters – Ellie and Charlotte.

JEFF COGEN CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Jeff Cogen brings more than 30 years of experience in the sports and entertainment industry to the Nashville Predators as the team's Chief Executive Officer, a role he was named to in August 2010. As the CEO of the Predators and Bridgestone Arena, Cogen is responsible for running the business operations of both the club and the arena.

During his tenure as CEO, Cogen has guided the organization to its most successful sales seasons to date, with the Nashville Predators increasing attendance from four regular season sellouts in 2009-10 to a franchise-high 99.2 percent capacity (20 sellouts in 24 games) in 2012-13, and growing the Season Ticket Holder base to more than 10,000 for the first time since the 1999-2000 season. Cogen has also been instrumental in the creation of a brand-new ice rink in Antioch, Tenn., set to open in 2014. This rink is part of an ongoing public/private partnership with Metro Nashville to promote healthy lifestyles for Middle Tennessee residents and continue increasing participation in youth and amateur hockey.

Prior to joining the Predators, Cogen served as president of both the Dallas Stars (2007-10) and Texas Rangers (2004-07) after previously working under the Hicks Sports Group umbrella from 1993-2001. As President of the Rangers, and then the Stars, Cogen ran all business aspects of the franchises, and also served as Hicks Sports Group's primary representative on American Airlines Center Board that provides oversight and leadership on all arena issues including overall financial performance, capital expenditures, third party events and team operations.

With the Rangers, where he was also chief operating officer for one year, Cogen increased revenues by 20 percent over a three-year span, and generated revenue streams through a landmark naming-rights deal (Ameriquest Field in Arlington), and through non-traditional outlets such has technological partnerships.

In his first stint with the Stars as vice president from 1993-99, Cogen helped build the newly relocated franchise's season ticket base to more than 15,000 fans and saw a sellout streak that lasted more than 150 games over a nearly four-season span. After being promoted to Executive V.P. of Marketing and Sales of Southwest Sports Group (entity that operated both the Stars and Rangers), Cogen created synergies between the teams that led to exponential rises in ticket and sponsorship revenue.

Cogen's two stints in Dallas were bridged by a successful two-year stretch as Chief Operating Officer of the Florida Panthers and the then-Office Depot Center. From 2001-03, he executed a naming rights agreement for the venue, and boosted income on both the team and building sides via joint entertainment ventures.

The Newport News, Va., native's first taste of professional sports came as Director, and later Vice President of Marketing for Olympia Arenas, the managing company of Detroit Red Wings, Joe Louis Arena and Fox Theater, from 1986-93. He started his career with Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Shows in 1979, managing more than 100 engagements until August 1986.

Cogen currently serves on the Adventure Science Center Board of Directors and Executive Committee, the Fifth Third Advisory Board, the Nashville Chamber of Commerce Board and Audit and Finance Committee, the T.J. Martell Board and the Partnership 20/20 Lead Investor Group.

SEAN HENRY PRESIDENT/CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

Now entering his fourth season as the President/Chief Operating Officer of the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena, Sean Henry (Twitter: @PREDSident) has brought a unique and aggressive approach to arena booking and operations, ticket and sponsorship sales and government affairs to his position. As President and COO, he is responsible for business operations of the franchise and venue.

Since Henry joined the organization, Bridgestone Arena has enjoyed its most successful seasons to date, highlighted by its first-ever consecutive Top 10 Pollstar year-end rankings. The Nashville Predators' sales team also had their most successful sales season to date, selling out 20 of 24 home games during the shortened 2012-13 season with a franchise-record 99 percent capacity. In 2012, Henry led a team that was instrumental in securing Bridgestone Arena's new lease with the city of Nashville, keeping the downtown staple thriving and growing through 2028. As a provision of the new lease, Henry, alongside several other Nashville Predators executives, worked closely with Metro Nashville to bring a new ice rink to Antioch, Tenn., in 2014, with the goal of growing the game of hockey in Middle Tennessee.

Prior to joining the Predators, Henry spent 11 years with the Tampa Bay Lightning and Palace Sports and Entertainment, serving as their Executive Vice President and COO, overseeing business operations for the Lightning, St. Pete Times Forum and Single-A baseball's Asheville Tourists. During this time, the company saw dramatic increases in all revenue areas. The St. Pete Times Forum became one of the busiest venues in the country, built around a Stanley Cup Championship in 2004.

Henry's two years prior to his stay in Tampa were spent as Vice President of Sales and Marketing with Unity Motion, the first company to deliver High Definition television systems to the residential market and the first to broadcast a live HD program across the United States and the first live sporting event in HD.

The Long Island native started working at the tender age of three, helping his father on construction sites. Henry was charged with the largest of tasks – from picking up nails to watching cement cure, he did it all. Henry then entered the sports and entertainment industry in 1983 when he joined Volume Services Inc., as a busboy and would serve in various building management roles with the company through 1997. In his time with Volume Services, Henry's clients included the Detroit Pistons, St. Louis Rams, and Washington Redskins.

The second biggest trophy with Henry's name on it is the fourth place hardware he won for the West Islip Westbrook Elementary School's Bowling Winter Classic in 1977. This winning foundation has him well prepared and excited for the Annual Preds & Pins tournament where he looks to build upon that legacy of bowling mediocrity.

Henry, a graduate of The State University of New York, married Tracey Manning, a.k.a. the Suburban Diva, 22 years ago. They have four children – sons Steven and Matthew, and daughters Amy and Jessica.

Henry serves on the boards of The Nashville Predators Foundation, The Nashville Downtown Partnership, The Nashville Sports Council, Rocketown and The Sports Fund. He and Tracey are also very involved in their children's schools, sports teams and clubs.

PAUL FENTON ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Now in his 16th season with the Predators, and his eighth as the club's assistant general manager, Paul Fenton has been instrumental in bringing in many of Nashville's core players, primarily through the draft, but also through trades and free agent signings.

After serving as the director of player personnel for the Predators' first eight seasons, Fenton was promoted to assistant general manager on June 5, 2006, where he oversees the Predators' amateur player development, manages the team's professional and amateur scouting staff and advises President of Hockey Operations/General Manager David Poile on player personnel decisions. He has assisted in player acquisitions since joining the Predators and managed the club's Entry Draft efforts from 2003 (when the team selected Ryan Suter, Shea Weber, Kevin Klein and Alexander Sulzer) until 2008 when he passed the torch to Chief Amateur Scout Jeff Kealty.

In 2012-13, the Predators used 17 players drafted and developed by the team – which included 10 of the team's top 12 point getters – and five more who were acquired by Nashville before making their NHL debut, meaning 22 of 34 players used by the Predators in each of the last two seasons have been "homegrown."

Fenton also serves as general manager of the Predators' primary developmental affiliate, the Milwaukee Admirals of the American Hockey League, who made their AHL-record 11th consecutive playoff appearance in 2013 despite seeing 11 of their top players recalled to Nashville during various points of the season. The Admirals extended their playoff streak thanks to a 15-4-1 record in their final 20 games. Milwaukee has won four division titles in the past 10 seasons, and became the first team in AHL history to post 40-or-more wins and 90-or-more points in eight consecutive seasons from 2002-03 to 2010-11. He also served as Associate GM for Team USA at the 2011 World Championships.

Fenton joined the Predators after spending five seasons in the Anaheim Ducks' hockey operations department. He served as a scout during his first three seasons with the Ducks and as the chief professional scout the last two years. A number of players drafted during Fenton's run with the Ducks – such as Paul Kariya, Steve Rucchin, Ruslan Salei and Mike LeClerc – led Anaheim to the 2003 Stanley Cup Finals. The Springfield, Mass., native also helped facilitate one of the Anaheim franchise's largest trades, the February 1996 acquisition of Teemu Selanne.

Fenton played eight seasons in the NHL before joining the scouting ranks. He amassed 100 goals and 83 assists in 411 NHL contests while playing for seven different NHL teams, including San Jose during the Sharks' inaugural season (1991-92). In 1989-90, the former Boston University Terrier scored an NHL career-high 32 goals for the Winnipeg Jets, and his playing resume also includes three selections to AHL and IHL All-Star teams.

Paul and his wife, Nona, reside in Brentwood. They have two sons, P.J. and Owen. P.J. was the San Jose Sharks' sixth selection, 162nd overall (fifth round), in the 2005 NHL Entry Draft and will play his sixth professional season in Germany in 2013-14 with the Heilbronner Falken after winning the 2013 Bundesliga title with the Bietigheim Steelers. Owen is entering his fourth year as a doctorate student in chemistry at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT).

BRENT PETERSON HOCKEY OPERATIONS ADVISOR

A Nashville Predator since Day One, Brent Peterson enters his third season as Hockey Operations Advisor in 2013-14 after spending 13 seasons as a member of the team's coaching staff. In his role as an advisor, Peterson works closely with General Manager David Poile and Head Coach Barry Trotz on all matters involving the team, in addition to being active in the community and in sponsorship and business operations.

A tireless worker in the community, Peterson established the Peterson Foundation for Parkinson's (PFP) in 2007 to raise awareness of the devastating effects of Parkinson's disease. Since 2011, PFP has joined forces with the Nashville Predators to hold Petey's Preds Party – a fun night of live entertainment, dinner and an extensive silent auction – and the Nashville Predators/Brent Peterson Celebrity Golf Classic at Vanderbilt Legends Club. Each of the first three events have raised more than $200,000 which was split between Parkinson's research and the Predators Foundation. Donations to PFP fund critical research to aid in the fight against the disease as well as educational and support groups.

During the 2011-12 season, Peterson brought his battle with Parkinson's into the public eye – including in-depth coverage of his Deep Brain Stimulation Surgery (DBS) – in an effort to create awareness and cultivate donations to the Peterson Foundation for Parkinson's. Since the DBS, Peterson is happy, healthy and has seen a dramatic reduction of his Parkinson's symptoms.

In his time behind the Predators bench as both associate coach (2003-11) and assistant coach (1998-2003), Peterson worked closely with the penalty killing unit that has finished among the top 12 in the NHL in 10 of 12 seasons, and a defensive corps that gave up the second fewest goals in his final season behind the bench (2010-11). He helped the club to Stanley Cup Playoff berths in six of his last seven seasons behind the bench.

Peterson joined the Predators after serving as head coach of the Portland Winter Hawks (WHL) for seven seasons, posting a 201-138-20 mark from 1992-98. During the 1997-98 season, the Winter Hawks were a league-best 53-14-5 and captured the WHL Championship and the Memorial Cup. He recorded 40-or-more victories on four occasions and helped develop NHL first-round picks Adam Deadmarsh (1993), Jason Wiemer (1994), Brenden Morrow (1997) and Marian Hossa (1997).

Prior to joining Portland, the Calgary, Alta., native spent two seasons (1989-91) as an assistant coach with the Hartford Whalers (NHL) following his retirement as a player. The former first-round pick of Detroit (1978) played 11 NHL seasons from 1978-89 with Detroit, Buffalo, Vancouver and Hartford. He appeared in 620 NHL games, collecting 213 points (72g-141a) and 484 penalty minutes. Peterson was known as one of the NHL's top defensive forwards and penalty killers.

Brent and his wife, Tami, reside in Franklin, Tenn. They have three children: Ryan, Brad and Kristin, and one grandchild – Jacob.

JEFF KEALTY CHIEF AMATEUR SCOUT

Kealty, now in his 13th season with the organization, has been managing the club's amateur scouting operation as the Predators Chief Amateur Scout since July 25, 2007. In addition to monitoring the best draft-eligible talent around the globe, Kealty keeps an eye on the CHL, NCAA and other junior leagues in North America and Europe. Reporting to Assistant General Manager Paul Fenton, Kealty also spearheads the team's annual efforts at the NHL Entry Draft.

The Boston native has overseen Nashville's past six drafts, helping to bolster the club's depth across the board, selecting 29 forwards, 14 defensemen and six goalies since his first year running Nashville's draft table in 2008. In 2013, Kealty and his staff were elated to choose the top player on their draft list for the first time in franchise history after seeing potential future superstar defenseman Seth Jones slip to them at the fourth overall. The 2013 Draft class was rounded out with a collection of size, grit, and potential steals from overseas, further bolstering a deep prospect pool.

Three more Predators prospects, in addition to 2012 first-round pick Filip Forsberg – who the amateur scouting staff had ranked third his draft year and was acquired from Washington on April 3, 2013 – made their NHL debuts with the team in 2012-13. Several more, like 2011 second-round selection Magnus Hellberg, 2012 third rounder Brendan Leipsic and 2012 sixth-round choice Marek Mazanec, broke out in various leagues around the world. Hellberg ranked among the AHL's top four goaltenders in league goals-against average, save percentage and shutouts during his rookie season with the Milwaukee Admirals, Leipsic won the major junior scoring title, and Mazanec led his Czech League team to its first championship.

While 2008 selections Colin Wilson and Roman Josi continue to emerge as integral components of the Predators present and future, the 2009 draft class might be the most well-rounded to date. Third-round selection Taylor Beck (70th overall) was the latest to emerge of the class, leading Milwaukee in scoring and spending the final six weeks of the 2012-13 season with the Predators, while Ryan Ellis (11th overall, first round), Craig Smith (98th overall, fourth round), Mattias Ekholm (102nd overall, fourth round) and Gabriel Bourque (132nd overall, fifth round) are all expected to be part of the Predators' lineup for years to come.

A former first-round pick (22nd overall) of the Quebec Nordiques in 1994, Kealty was signed by Nashville as a free agent in 1998 following a four-year college career at Boston University. The former defenseman played one pro season for the Milwaukee Admirals (International Hockey League) before his playing career was cut short due to injury.

BARRY TROTZ HEAD COACH

The longest tenured coach in the NHL and only coach in Nashville Predators franchise history, Barry Trotz is regarded as one of the top bench bosses in the game today. He has been a finalist for the Jack Adams Award as the NHL's top coach twice in the last four seasons (2010 and 2011), while finishing in the Top Five on four other occasions since 2006. Since Trotz was hired on Aug. 6, 1997, there have been more than 175 coaching changes involving the League's other 29 teams.

In his 15 seasons and 16 years as the Predators' coach, Trotz has put himself among some legendary names, ranking third all-time in both games coached (1,114) and wins (519) with a single franchise. He also ranked 15th on the NHL's all-time coaching victories list, and fourth among active coaches behind only Joel Quenneville (Chicago), Ken Hitchcock (St. Louis) and Lindy Ruff (Dallas). Additionally, he is one of just six coaches in all four major North American sports leagues to have coached or managed each of a team's first 15 seasons of existence (MLB: Connie Mack (50, Oakland); NFL: Curly Lambeau (29, Green Bay), Tom Landry (29, Dallas), Hank Stram (15, Kansas City), Paul Brown (15, Cleveland)), and one of just four coaches in expansion-team history (among the four major sports) to have a record better than .500.

Trotz is one of just two coaches to lead the same team to the playoffs at least seven times in the last nine seasons, and has averaged nearly 45 wins and 99 points in each of the last eight full seasons (91 in 2003-04, 106 in 2005-06, 110 in 2006-07, 91 in 2007-08, 88 in 2008-09, 100 in 2009-10, 99 in 2010-11 and 104 in 2011-12). The Predators also boast the League's sixth highest win total (336) and fourth-most home victories (192) in the League since the start of the 2005-06 season.

Trotz's modus operandi is using an aggressive system based on strong forechecking and sound defense to direct a hard-working group to the playoffs on an annual basis. After becoming the only Western Conference team to advance to the second round of the Stanley Cup Playoffs back-to-back seasons in 2011 and 2012, Trotz faced a season of transition during the abridged 2012-13 campaign, seeing eight rookies and three other newcomers implemented into the lineup. In 2013-14, Trotz will look to get back to the "Predator way" with an ideal blend of youth and veterans, as well as grit and offensive ability. Trotz's system has seen the Predators finish among the Top 10 in penalty killing rankings six times in the last eight seasons, and in the League's top half in goals-against average seven times in the last eight years. The Predators are annually among the NHL's most disciplined as well, ranking among the Top Five in fewest penalty minutes five straight seasons, finishing first in the category in 2009-10 and 2011-12.

Trotz earned his back-to-back Jack Adams nominations in 2009-10 when he was runner-up for the award after leading his squad to a 100-point season (47-29-6) despite the NHL's 28th-highest payroll, and in 2011-12 after guiding the Predators to the fifth seed in the Western Conference (44-27-11 record) despite losing 348 man-games due to injury, a number that ranked among the top three in the League, and being the fifth youngest roster down the stretch and the youngest among playoff teams. That success continued in 2011-12 when he finished fifth in Adams voting after steering the team to their third-best record in franchise history and to Top 10 rankings in goals for (eighth), goals against (eighth), power-play percentage (first) and penalty kill percentage (10th). On Nov. 12, 2011, against the Montreal Canadiens, he hit the 1,000-game milestone, and on March 30, 2012, reached the 500-win mark.

Trotz also raked in the individual accolades following the 2006-07 campaign after guiding the Predators to the second-most points in the Western Conference and tied for the third-most points in the entire National Hockey League, notching franchise records in points (110), wins (51), road wins (23) and goals (272) in the process. He was named 2007 Coach of the Year by The Sporting News, an honor determined through a vote of his peers, in addition to finishing fourth in Jack Adams voting and serving as an assistant coach for the Western Conference All-Stars at the 2007 NHL All-Star Game.

The 51-year-old Dauphin, Manitoba native reached his goal of becoming an NHL head coach when he was named to his current position on Aug. 6, 1997. After a year aggressively scouting talent in North America and Europe, Trotz and his staff made the most of their opportunity by leading the inaugural edition (1998-99) of the Predators to a 28-47-7 record. Starting with a 3-2 victory over the Carolina Hurricanes on Oct. 13, 1998, the Predators' 28 wins were the third-most in expansion history.

Prior to joining the Predators, Trotz spent five seasons (1992-97) as the head coach of the Washington Capitals' primary developmental affiliate in the American Hockey League. He was named head coach of the Baltimore Skipjacks in 1992 after one season as an assistant coach. Following the franchise's relocation to Portland, Maine in 1993, he led the Portland Pirates to two Calder Cup Finals appearances over the next four seasons. In 1994-95, Trotz coached Portland to a Calder Cup Championship and a league-best 43-27-10 record and captured AHL Coach of the Year honors. In 2006, he was honored with election to the Pirates' Hall of Fame.

COACHING STAFF

Trotz has also gained experience coaching on the international stage, serving as an assistant coach for Team Canada at the IIHF World Championships on four occasions, most recently at the 2013 tournament in Stockholm, Sweden and Helsinki, Finland. In 2003, he helped the Canadians strike gold in Finland, and in 2009 he helped guide Canada to a silver medal in Switzerland. The first time he answered the call for his nation came at the 2002 Championships in Sweden.

Trotz began his coaching career in 1984 as an assistant with the University of Manitoba. He then served two seasons (1985-87) as the head coach and general manager of the Dauphin Kings junior hockey club before returning to the University of Manitoba as the head coach in 1987. In January 2001, Trotz was inducted into the University's Hall of Fame.

During the 1987 campaign, Trotz also served as a scout for the Spokane Chiefs (WHL) and a part-time scout for the Capitals. In 1988, he joined Washington as a full-time western scout, and the next season he became the Caps' chief western scout.

Before coaching, Trotz played junior hockey for Regina (WHL) from 1979-83, capturing a WHL championship in 1979-80. The defenseman registered 102 points (19g-83a) and 490 penalty minutes in 204 games.

The popular head coach and his family are active in a variety of service and charitable initiatives in the Middle Tennessee community. This commitment was recognized when Trotz was honored with the Community Spirit Award (in recognition for community service) at the 2005 O'Charley's Dinner of Champions, presented by the Nashville Sports Council.

Since the Predators inception, the Trotz's have donated $500 to My Friend's House (a United Way agency) for each Nashville victory, with donations to surpass $260,000 in 2013-14. He is an active board member for Peterson for Parkinson's Foundation, the Williamson County YMCA and the United Way. He also works closely with Best Buddies of Tennessee, a nonprofit organization dedicated to establishing a global volunteer movement that creates opportunities for one-on-one friendships, integrated employment and leadership development for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

PHIL HOUSLEY ASSISTANT COACH

The fourth-highest scoring defenseman in NHL history, Phil Housley was hired as a Predators assistant coach on May 21, 2013, and enters his first season behind an NHL bench in 2013-14 after helping USA Hockey reach new heights since entering the coaching ranks in 2004. Housley's primary responsibilities will be running the team's defensive corps and heading up the power play.

Housley has spent the last nine seasons coaching at different levels, with his most notable accomplishments coming on the international stage. He coached the United States to a gold medal at the 2013 World Junior Championships, and helped Team USA claim the bronze medal at the 2013 World Championships as an assistant coach. Housley was also behind the bench for the U.S. National Team at the 2011 World Championships, and was an assistant on the 2007 and 2011 editions of the World Junior team, helping each squad claim the bronze medal. He was also one of two head coaches for the inaugural CCM/USA Hockey All-American Prospects Game in 2012.

The highest scoring American-born defenseman amassed 1,232 points (338g-894a) in 1,495 NHL regular-season games in a career that spanned 21 seasons (1982-2003) with eight teams (Buffalo, Winnipeg, St. Louis, Calgary, New Jersey, Washington, Chicago and Toronto). Housley was also a seven-time All-Star Game selection and finished his career having suited up for the sixth-most games all-time among blueliners. A first-round pick (sixth overall) by the Buffalo Sabres in the 1982 NHL Entry Draft, Housley was inducted into the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame in 2004.

The 49-year-old native of South St. Paul, Minn., also played extensively for his country. A seven-time member of the U.S. National Team at the World Championships (1982, 1986, 1989, 1996, 2000, 2001, 2003), Housley earned a silver medal at the 2002 Salt Lake City Olympics and helped Team USA capture the 1996 World Cup of Hockey title. He was inducted into the IIHF Hall of Fame in 2012, received the USA Hockey Distinguished Achievement Award in 2013 for his outstanding contributions on or off the ice to the sport in America, the 2008 Lester Patrick Award for outstanding service to hockey in the United States, and USA Hockey's Bob Johnson Award in 2000 for excellence in international competition.

LANE LAMBERT ASSISTANT COACH

Lane Lambert enters his third season as an assistant coach with the Predators in 2013-14, and seventh season in the organization after serving behind the bench of the club's primary development affiliate in the American Hockey League, the Milwaukee Admirals, from 2007-11. Lambert's responsibilities include running the team's forward corps, in addition to heading up the penalty kill.

In his first season at the NHL level in 2011-12, Lambert helped the Predators to the League's fifth-best record during the regular season, finishing among the Top 10 in goals, goals against and penalty kill efficiency. In 2012-13, he oversaw a forward corps ravaged by injury, and assisting in the NHL debut of six players, including highly touted prospects Filip Forsberg, Taylor Beck and Austin Watson.

During his time as head coach of the Admirals from 2007-11, Lambert led the club to a 178-103-39 record, the sixth-most wins in the AHL in that span, while giving up the second-fewest goals (821) in the league. Milwaukee posted 40-or-more wins and 90-or-more points all four seasons under Lambert as well, making them the first team in AHL history to reach the marks in eight consecutive campaigns. In addition to four straight Calder Cup Playoff berths, Lambert helped the Ads capture a pair of West Division titles, posting the Western Conference's highest point total in 2010-11 (102 pts, 44-22-14 record) despite seeing 10 of his core players recalled to the Predators during the season. He also captured a division title in 2008-09 when he led a young squad to 49-22-9 record, tying for the most points (107) in the AHL. The win total tied a club record since the team joined the AHL for the 2001-02 campaign.

Prior to joining the Admirals as an assistant coach in 2006-07, the Melfort, Sask., native spent one season as an assistant for the Bridgeport Sound Tigers, the New York Islanders' AHL affiliate. Lambert started his coaching career in the Western Hockey League, spending parts of two seasons as head coach of the Prince George Cougars (2003-05) and parts of two campaigns as an assistant for the Moose Jaw Warriors (2002-04).

Lambert finished an 18-year playing career with the Houston Aeros in 2000-01. The Detroit Red Wings' second selection, 25th overall (second round), in the 1983 NHL Entry Draft, Lambert finished his NHL career with 125 points (58g-67a) and 521 penalty minutes in 283 games with Detroit, the New York Rangers and Quebec from 1983-89. Lambert enjoyed his most successful NHL campaign with the Nordiques in 1987-88, recording career-highs in points (41) and assists (28) in 61 contests.

The 48-year old Lambert also gained significant playing experience in both the American and International Hockey Leagues, posting a combined 238 points (113g-125a) in 417 games. He won an AHL Calder Cup title with Adirondack in 1986, and helped the Houston Aeros claim the IHL's Turner Cup championship in 1999.

COACHING STAFF

DAVID GOOD STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

David Good enters his 10th season as the strength and conditioning coach of the Nashville Predators, and will travel full-time with the team for the first time in 2013-14. He joined the Predators in July of 2004 and is responsible for preparing and supervising workout programs for all players in the Predators system. Good also runs the club's prospect development program and the off-ice aspects of the Predators Hockey School.

Good was instrumental in developing a program for Steve Sullivan that allowed the Predators forward to return to the ice on January 12, 2009 after almost a two-year absence that included missing 142 straight regular-season games and 11 playoff games due to a back injury. In June of 2009, Sullivan won the NHL's Bill Masterton Memorial Trophy given "to the player that best exemplifies the qualities of perseverance, sportsmanship and dedication to hockey." During the summer of 2010, he designed and outfitted the new weight room at Bridgestone Arena with triple the amount of space to facilitate optimal in-season training.

Prior to joining the Predators, Good served as the director of speed-strength and conditioning for West Coast Sports Performance and Center for Athlete Medicine in Manhattan Beach, Calif., and also served as a consultant for the Long Beach Ice Dogs (ECHL). The Colorado native served as the assistant speed-strength and conditioning coach for the Los Angeles Kings from 1999-2003 and held the same title from 1997-99 with the Ice Dogs (IHL). He also served as strength and conditioning coordinator at Loyola Marymount University in Los Angeles from 1998-99.

Before moving to California, Good served as the student assistant strength and conditioning coach at the University of Colorado for two years. He received his bachelor of arts degree in kinesiology from the University of Colorado at Boulder along with certifications in strength and conditioning, sports conditioning, Olympic weightlifting and kettlebell training.

MITCH KORN GOALTENDING COACH

Mitch Korn enters his 16th season as the goaltending coach for the Predators and in his 23rd season in the NHL. He works with all netminders in the Nashville system, including those playing in Milwaukee (AHL), Cincinnati (ECHL), amateur leagues and Europe.

The well-known goaltending coach has helped several Nashville goaltenders burst onto the NHL scene, the most recent being Pekka Rinne, who was a finalist for the Vezina Trophy and finished among the Top 10 in Hart Trophy voting in both 2011 and 2012. Over the past five seasons, the Kempele, Finland leads all NHL netminders in shutouts (30), is ranked fifth in save percentage (.919), sixth in wins (152) and tied for seventh in goals-against average (2.36).

Nashville's philosophy since its inception has been to build a solid foundation from the goaltender out, and Korn's success cultivating players at the position has made that structure work. Dating back to the 1998 Expansion Draft, the likes of two-time Czech Olympian, 2010 World Champion and NHL All-Star Tomas Vokoun, and NHL mainstays Chris Mason, Dan Ellis – who led the league in save percentage his first full season with the Predators – and Anders Lindback have all developed under Korn's watch. The veteran's two newest students acquitted themselves nicely in 2012-13, as Magnus Hellberg (drafted by Nashville 38th overall in 2011) ranked among the AHL's top four netminders in shutouts, goals-against average and save percentage in his first season in North America with the Milwaukee Admirals, while Marek Mazanec (drafted 179th by Nashville in 2012) led HC Plzen to its first Czech League title.

Before joining the Predators on July 23, 1998, Korn spent seven seasons in the Buffalo Sabres organization, where he enjoyed great success while working with two-time Hart Trophy-winner Dominik Hasek. While working with Korn, Hasek captured four Vezina Trophies and led the NHL in save percentage five times. Korn also saw Buffalo's goaltending tandem (Hasek and Hall-of-Famer Grant Fuhr) capture the NHL's Jennings Trophy (lowest team goals-against average) during the 1994-95 season. In addition to goaltenders, Korn has also developed goalie coaches, with several who have learned under him serving around North America, including five currently at the NHL level.

The New York City native has more than 35 years of coaching experience, beginning his coaching career at Kent State University in 1979 shortly after ending his playing career at the school. He worked at Miami University's Goggin Ice Center in Oxford, Ohio for 30 years until his retirement in 2010, coaching the school's goalies until joining the Sabres in 1991. Korn, who runs goaltending and defensemen schools around the country in the off-season, also has contributed regularly to several hockey publications including USA Hockey Magazine, Goalies' World and In-Goal Magazine.

ANDY HOSLER HEAD ATHLETIC TRAINER

Andy Hosler enters his seventh season as an athletic trainer for the Predators, and first as head athletic trainer, in 2013-14. Hosler has been a certified athletic trainer for the last 10 years, eight of which have been spent in professional hockey.

Prior to joining the Predators, the Monroe, Mich., native spent two seasons as the head athletic trainer for the Utah Grizzlies of the ECHL. Hosler earned a Masters Degree in Kinesiology at Michigan State University, while serving as a graduate assistant, working with the Spartan wrestling and football teams during the 2003-04 and 2004-05 seasons. Hosler earned his bachelor's degree from Western Michigan University, working across the athletic department spectrum from gymnastics to football.

PETE ROGERS HEAD EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Pete Rogers enters his 16th season as head equipment manager of the Nashville Predators in 2013-14. He is responsible for the everyday equipment needs of all the players as well as coordinating transfer of equipment to and from road games. Rogers works with the NHL to ensure compliance with programs concerning equipment tracking, jersey authentication and on-ice exposure. In February 2014, he will serve as Team USA's equipment manager for the 2014 Olympics in Sochi.

Rogers served as the equipment manager for Team USA at the 2013 IIHF World Championships, his seventh time representing his country at the Worlds (2005, 1998-2002), but first time earning a medal (bronze). He was also the U.S. National Team's equipment manager at the 2006 Winter Olympics, the 2004 World Cup of Hockey and the 2004 Deutschland Cup in Germany. Elected President of the Society of Professional Hockey Equipment Managers (SPHEM) in June 2012 after previously serving as its Western Conference Representative, Rogers was the head equipment manager for the Eastern Conference All-Stars at the 2008 NHL All-Star Game in Dallas. The veteran of more than 1,800 professional games worked his 1,500th game as an equipment manager in professional hockey on January 10, 2009 and his 1,000th game with the Predators on November 12, 2011.

Prior to joining the Predators in July 1998, the SUNY Brockport graduate spent seven seasons as the equipment manager and director of team travel for the Rochester Americans of the American Hockey League. Rogers spent nine seasons as an assistant equipment manager in Rochester before a one-year stint as head trainer with the Hampton Roads Admirals of the ECHL in 1989-90.

BROADCASTERS

PETE WEBER PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

"Voice of the Predators" Pete Weber (Twitter: @petewebersports) begins his 16th season in 2013-14 as the team's primary play-by-play announcer. He has never missed a Predators' broadcast assignment, calling 1,114 regular-season, along with each of the team's 56 playoff games.

His insights are called upon by local sportstalk radio and television, and his writing is regularly featured on the team's website. In January 2013, Weber won his second Tennessee Sportscaster of the Year award, as voted by the National Association of Sportscasters and Sportswriters.

Pete has served the last seven seasons as an "insider" on Sirius/XM's NHL Network Radio, and has served as co-host of Slapshot Radio since the fall of 2009.

In addition to his roles with the team, Weber has served as co-host of SportsNight from 2003 through 2005, filled in as host on ESPN Radio, called two Music City Bowl games and helped out on Nashville Sounds baseball broadcasts. He also produced and hosted two podcasts: "This Week in the Minor (baseball) Leagues" and the syndicated "Southern Pro Football."

Weber's hockey experience includes three seasons (1978-81) as analyst on the Los Angeles Kings radio and telecasts, two seasons (1995-97) of radio play-by-play for the Buffalo Sabres and coverage of the U.S. hockey team at the 1984 Winter Olympics in Sarajevo, Yugoslavia, along with duties as host for Buffalo's cable and radio coverage. At the college level, he called games for his alma mater (University of Notre Dame) from 1974 to 1976, and the University at Buffalo from 1976 through 1978.

Outside of hockey, Weber spent 15 seasons in Triple A baseball with Albuquerque, Rochester and Buffalo, where he was inducted into the Buffalo Baseball Hall of Fame in 1999. He served one season as TV play-by-play for the NBA's Seattle SuperSonics and was part of the broadcast team for each of the Buffalo Bills' four Super Bowl appearances.

A regional Emmy award winner (2003, 2008, and 2010), Pete is on the Board of Governors for the Mid-South's chapter for the National Academy of TV Arts and Sciences. In addition, he is on the advisory board for the Tennessee Radio Hall of Fame.

A native of Galesburg, Ill., Pete holds two degrees from the University of Notre Dame. He and his wife, Claudia, reside in Nashville.

TERRY CRISP COLOR ANALYST

Entering his 16th year with the Predators, Terry Crisp provides the color commentary on the club's television broadcasts and helps comprise one of the most well-known broadcast duos in the League. He contributes insight to the Predators' website and worked as a studio analyst for Canada's TSN during the 2000, 2002 and 2003 IIHF World Championships. Crisp also hosts his own radio show, Extra Crispy, on the Predators flagship radio station 102.5 The Game.

A part of the Predators' Emmy-winning broadcasts in 2003, 2008 and 2010, Crisp served as a color analyst for FOX Sports during the 1998-99 season and during the 1998 and 1999 Stanley Cup Finals, and has served in a similar capacity for TSN in past years.

Crisp posted 201 points (67g-134a) in 536 games during his 11 seasons in the NHL as a player for the Boston Bruins, St. Louis Blues, New York Islanders and Philadelphia Flyers. He has won three Stanley Cup Championships, two as a player with the Flyers (1974 and 1975) and one as a coach with Calgary (1989), and he is one of only 14 people to have won the Cup as both player and head coach. The Parry Sound, Ont., native has a unique perspective on expansion teams: he was a player with the inaugural editions of the St. Louis Blues in 1967 and the New York Islanders in 1972.

Crisp was the head coach of the Tampa Bay Lightning from the franchise's inception in 1992 through October 1997, coaching 391 games. He held the record for most games coached by an expansion franchise's first coach until Nashville Head Coach Barry Trotz broke the mark in 2003. In the 2004 NHL Stanley Cup Finals, the Lightning defeated the Flames – the team he coached to the Cup in 1989. Crisp also served as the assistant coach of the silver medal-winning Canadian team at the 1992 Winter Olympic Games in Albertville, France.

Terry and his wife, Sheila, reside in Nashville. The Crisp's have three children – sons Tony and Jeff, and daughter Caley.

ARENA INFORMATION & POWERS MANAGEMENT

Powers Management
Bridgestone Arena • 501 Broadway
(615) 770-2000 • Fax (615) 770-2010

Serving as the home for numerous national and international events, Bridgestone Arena has the distinction of being one of the busiest venues in the Unites States since the doors first opened in 1996, hosting more than 13 million guests during that time. The National Hockey League's Nashville Predators have been the primary tenants of Bridgestone Arena since 1998 and boast one of the most unique game atmospheres in the NHL. Seating capacity is approximately 20,000 for concerts, 19,395 for basketball and 17,113 for Nashville Predators games.

Formerly known as the Nashville Arena, the Gaylord Entertainment Center and the Sommet Center, the building became Bridgestone Arena in 2010 after Bridgestone Americas Inc., which is headquartered in Nashville, entered into multi-year naming-rights and marketing partnership with the Predators and Powers Management.

Initiated by former Nashville Mayor Phil Bredesen and approved by the Metro/Davidson County Council in 1993, Bridgestone Arena uniquely embraces Nashville's heritage as "Music City, U.S.A." Bridgestone Arena was designed as a tribute to Nashville's music roots, with the entrance positioned on the corner of Fifth Avenue and historic Broadway, facing the Ryman Auditorium – the original home of the Grand Ole Opry. The one million-square-foot facility has also spurred downtown growth in the last eight years, inspiring further development that includes the Country Music Hall of Fame, the Frist Museum of the Visual Arts, the Schermerhorn Symphony Center and the newly opened Music City Center. A number of downtown living options – including several new condominiums – continue to spring up in close proximity to Bridgestone Arena.

A report issued in 2012 estimated that Bridgestone Arena and the Nashville Predators generate an annual economic impact of approximately $410 million. More than 2,350 jobs are supported annually by the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena. Nearly two-thirds of attendees at all Bridgestone Arena events come from outside of Davidson County, creating a pure economic impact to Davidson County in dollars spent by out-of-county visitors.

Bridgestone Arena also hosts a variety of non-traditional functions for Davidson County, the city of Nashville and local residents. Bridgestone Arena tower is home to the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame, an XM Radio studio and the Nashville Convention and Visitors Bureau, which hosts more than 500,000 tourists annually. Bridgestone Arena features The Patrón Platinum Club, a 260-seat fine-dining experience located on the building's suite level, which is open before and after games and concerts, and hosts a number of banquets and receptions.

The arena also houses more than 6,000 square feet of meeting room space and a 13,500-square-foot rehearsal hall that is available for rent and used more than 200 days a year by national touring acts. Metro's Registry of Deeds and the Metro North Police precinct are also located inside the Bridgestone Arena.

The list of acts that have called Bridgestone Arena home is lengthy and includes the Country Music Association Awards; the Country Music Television Awards; Keith Urban's "We're All For the Hall" benefit concerts; NCAA, SEC and OVC Men's and Women's Basketball Tournaments; and entertainers such as Garth Brooks, Paul McCartney, Elton John, Billy Joel, the Rolling Stones, Tim McGraw, KISS, Metallica and Lady Gaga. Bridgestone Arena is set to host SEC Men's Basketball Tournaments in 2015, 2016 and 2019 and the NCAA Women's Final Four 2014.

KABOOM!

In August 2013, the Nashville Predators teamed up with newly opened Purpose Prep Charter and KaBOOM! – a national nonprofit dedicated to saving play – to build a new playground for 100 kindergarteners. More than 200 volunteers from the Predators, Jackson National Life Insurance and MAPCO/Delek, and residents of the local community joined forces to build the play space in just one day. The playground's design was based on drawings created by the children of Purpose Prep. This is the second KaBOOM! playground funded by the Nashville Predators Foundation.

HOCKEY FIGHTS CANCER

Every October and March the Nashville Predators host a Hockey Fights Cancer Night (a league-wide initiative) at two home games. These We Care for Kids nights, benefitting Monroe Carell Jr. Children's Hospital at Vanderbilt, include donations collected at all main entrances, and a silent auction which includes specialty jerseys worn by the players. Patients from Children's Hospital are invited to attend the game, ride on the Zamboni, take part in a postgame meet-and-greet with players and participate in the Zebra's Care, a charitable organization run by the NHL Official's Association. The money raised this past season will go to the Nashville Predators Foundation Pediatric Cancer Research Fund at Monroe Carell Jr. Children's Hospital at Vanderbilt, which was endowed in 2010.

This commitment to the community is seen through various initiatives. A few of the Predators' 2013-14 initiatives include Second Harvest Food Bank collections, the Marine Corps Toys for Tots Drive, monthly hospital visits, a Thanksgiving turkey deliveries, a holiday party for kids and Hockey Fights Cancer awareness month.

MANAGEMENT & STAFF

YOUTH HOCKEY/ FAN DEVELOPMENT

The Nashville Predators continue their efforts to enhance the awareness and opportunity of youth hockey in Middle Tennessee. The Predators have created partnerships with local youth hockey associations and assist with fundraising, hockey education and additional ice time to promote the growth of the sport at the grassroots level.

The Nashville Predators also assist area youth hockey organizations by providing coaches' clinics, players' clinics, ice time at Bridgestone Arena and funding for uniforms. Area youth players are also frequently featured during intermissions at Predators' home games.

STREET PRIDE

The NHL's league-wide street youth hockey program, NHL Street, serves local community centers and schools by providing this free athletic and educational program.

The NHL and the Nashville Predators provide street hockey sticks, pucks, nets and protective goalie equipment, including start-up hockey instruction for coaching and administration. The Predators also provide informative manuals for staff and participants, as well as follow-ups with program centers and player/coach clinics.

There are currently 40 youth facilities that participate in the Street Pride program including Boys & Girls Clubs throughout Middle Tennessee, Metro Parks and Recreation and the YMCA of Middle Tennessee. This free grassroots hockey development program emphasizes that all a kid needs to play hockey are sneakers, breaking down any socio-economic barriers associated with the sport.

GET OUT AND LEARN!

The Get Out And Learn! (G.O.A.L!) program introduces the game of hockey to young, aspiring Nashville Predators, without the financial commitment typically associated with the sport. This free, introductory program, designed for ages 5 to 8 with no prior experience, is offered in weekly sessions throughout the year at local rinks. The Predators provide all necessary equipment, ice time and instruction, making the program ideal for any family. The Preds are dedicated to supporting the development of youth hockey at all levels and recognize the need for local skating facilities to be accessible for beginners to help grow the sport, beginning at younger ages. Since its inception in 2006, more than 2,500 kids have graduated from G.O.A.L!

Hockey Rules is a free, traveling, interactive hockey experience that aims to educate elementary and middle school students on basic hockey skills and the Nashville Predators. During the school year, Hockey Rules visits more than 35 schools, reaching more than 5,000 students. The Predators provide all necessary equipment and instruction at no cost. The program continues into the summer as the Hockey Rules Summerfest Tour travels to youth camps, educating young fans on the sport of hockey.

PREDATORS HOCKEY SCHOOL

The Predators host a hockey school each July at A-Game in Franklin, which is open to boys and girls ages 8-14. Youth attending the hockey school are challenged daily with more than two hours of ice time, intensive dry-land conditioning, video analysis and "chalk talk" sessions. Hockey School emphasizes the basic fundamentals of hockey – stickhandling, power skating, shooting and passing.

Other features of the camp include daily lectures on nutrition, injury prevention, equipment maintenance and perspectives from the Predators scouting and coaching staffs.

The Predators also host the "Little Preds" Hockey School, an evening summertime camp at both A-Game in Franklin and Centennial Sportsplex in Nashville. The school is offered to children ages 5-8.

COACHES CORNER

In an ongoing effort to foster and improve youth hockey opportunities in Middle Tennessee, the Nashville Predators offer support to youth hockey coaches at all levels. Annually, the Preds host a free Coaching Symposium featuring Nashville Predators coaching staff. Through their partnership with USA Hockey, the Predators are able to present tools that any coach can use to improve his or her knowledge, and in turn, the team's on-ice performance.

PREDATORS CUP

The Predators Cup is the annual Tennessee State High School Hockey Championship tournament. Established during the 1999-00 season, it serves as a platform to highlight the top high school hockey teams in the state and is hosted by the Nashville Predators each spring at Bridgestone Arena. Since the inaugural tournament, 11 teams from Middle Tennessee, three teams from Memphis and one team from Knoxville have won the Predators Cup.

JERSEY SPONSORSHIP

As an ongoing partnership, the Nashville Predators partner with local ice hockey leagues as their official jersey provider. More than 700 youth hockey players on 48 teams at Centennial Sportsplex in Nashville and A-Game in Franklin wear the Predators logo. When the sponsorship started during the 2008-09 season, it marked the first time in club history that the Predator logo was worn by area hockey associations, strengthening the relationship between the youth hockey community and the NHL club.

SKATE AT BRIDGESTONE ARENA

Since the Predators inaugural season in 1998-99, thousands of youth hockey players have had the opportunity to skate on the same surface as NHL players. As a ticket fundraiser program, "Mites on Ice" is offered to hockey teams ages 9-and-under for the chance to skate in front of 17,000-plus fans during intermissions at select Predator home games. Adult and youth hockey teams can also skate on the same as ice as the pros through the "Rink of Dreams" program. Teams have the opportunity play an exhibition game at Bridgestone Arena before or after a Nashville home game to raise money for their team. In 2008, the team announced a joint venture with the Greater Nashville Area Scholastic Hockey League (GNASH) that will see area high school teams play at Bridgestone Arena as the featured High School Game of the Week.

NASHVILLE JR. PREDATORS

For the 2013-14 season, the Nashville Predators Youth hockey affiliate Nashville Jr. Predators enter their fifth season offering Tier I/II youth travel hockey to families in the Greater Nashville area. This season, the Jr. Predators program will field 17 teams (4 AAA Tier 1, 7 AA, 6 A) from the following age divisions: Squirt (ages 8-10), Peewee (ages 10-12), Bantam (ages 12-14), and Midget (ages 14-18). ADMIRALS COACHING STAFF

DEAN EVASON HEAD COACH

Dean Evason enters his second season as the Milwaukee Admirals' head coach after leading the team to a 41-28-4-3 record (89 points) in 2012-13, good for second in the Midwest Division and the Ads' AHL-best 11th consecutive playoff berth. Evason led Milwaukee to a 15-4-1 in its final 20 games of the regular season to claim the Western Conference's eighth and final playoff spot by one point despite having nine of the team's top 12 scorers recalled to Nashville or traded during that span.

Evason was named the 20th coach in Milwaukee Admirals history on June 19, 2012 after spending seven seasons as an assistant coach with the Washington Capitals, helping them claim four straight Southeast Division titles, reach the Stanley Cup Playoffs five straight years (2008-12) and win the 2010 President's Trophy. In his time as an assistant in Washington from 2005-12, the Capitals compiled a 294-206-74 record (.577). Evason's responsibilities included face-offs – helping the Caps finish among the NHL's Top 10 five times – the penalty kill – which finished as high as second in the League under his watch (2010-11) – while also being in charge of the team's forwards.

Prior to joining the Capitals, Evason spent six seasons as a head coach in the Western Hockey League. He began his coaching career with the Kamloops Blazers – where his roster included Predators 2002 first-round pick Scottie Upshall – compiling a 109-83-17 record in three seasons from 1999-2002. Evason moved on to guide the Vancouver Giants to back-to-back playoff appearances in 2002-03 and 2003-04, before co-coaching the Calgary Hitmen to a 34-23-9-6 record in 2004-05 on a team that included NHL stars Andrew Ladd and Ryan Getzlaf.

Washington's third selection, 89th overall (third round), in the 1982 Entry Draft, Evason amassed 372 points (139g-233a) and 1,002 penalty minutes in 803 NHL games with the Capitals, Hartford Whalers, San Jose Sharks, Dallas Stars and Calgary Flames from 1983-96. This included a pair of season playing under then-Washington General Manager David Poile (1983-85) and three seasons as a teammate of Predators Assistant General Manager Paul Fenton in both the Hartford (1984-86) and San Jose (1991-92) organizations. He served as a player/coach for Team Canada during the 1996-97 season, captaining the team to a gold medal at the 1997 World Championship. He wound down his career as a player/coach with Landshut of the German League in 1997-98 and 1998-99.

A native of Flin Flon, Man., Evason is an honored member of the Manitoba Hockey Hall of Fame. He has three children – Bryce, Brianne and Brooke.

STAN DRULIA ASSISTANT COACH

Stan Drulia enters his second full season as an assistant coach for the Milwaukee Admirals in 2013-14 after helping them reach the postseason in each of the past two seasons. Named to the position on December 5, 2011, Drulia quickly transitioned into his role running the defensive corps, heading up the penalty kill, pre-scouting the opposition and focusing on face-offs as Milwaukee finished second in the Midwest Division and clinched their AHL-best 10th and 11th consecutive Calder Cup Playoff berths in 2011-12 and 2012-13. Despite having to use 12 blueliners, and seeing nine of the team's top 12 scorers recalled or traded away during the 2012-13 campaign, Drulia's work was crucial in the Admirals going 15-4-1 in their final 20 games to reach the playoffs.

Prior to joining Milwaukee, Drulia served as head coach for the ECHL's Wheeling Nailers, compiling a 49-35-5 record. During his last full season with the Nailers in 2010-11, the Fort Erie, Ont., native led the club to a 38-29-5 record and a spot in the Eastern Conference Finals. Eighteen players from the squad saw promotions to the American Hockey League during the course of the season.

Drulia spent four seasons in Port Huron from 2006-10, one with the United Hockey League's Flags, and three with the International Hockey League's Icehawks. In his three seasons at the IHL level, Drulia amassed a 132-75-21 record. In 2007-08, he guided the Icehawks to a 41-29-6 record, then to the Turner Cup Finals where they fell in a Game Seven overtime. In 2008-09, Drulia led Port Huron to a 44-21-11 mark and was named IHL Coach of the Year.

Prior to one season as an assistant with the Toledo Storm (ECHL) in 2005-06, Drulia served as head coach of the ECHL's Augusta Lynx (2003-05), and in his only year as the head coach of the Orlando Seals of the Atlantic Coast Hockey League in 2002-03, he guided the club to the league title, earning ACHL Coach of the Year honors.

Pittsburgh's 11th selection, 214th overall (11th round), in the 1986 Entry Draft, Drulia played 13 professional seasons from 1989-2001, including 126 NHL games with the Tampa Bay Lightning (15g-27a-42pts). He won two Turner Cups as IHL champions in 1994 with the Atlanta Knights and in 1997 with the Detroit Vipers, and was the recipient of the N.R. "Bud" Poile award – named after Predators GM David Poile's father – as IHL Playoff MVP on two occasions (1994 and 1999). Drulia posted three 100-plus point seasons - he won the scoring title and was ECHL MVP with the Knoxville Cherokees in 1990-91 (63g-77a-140pts), ranked second in goals and third in points with both the AHL's New Haven Nighthawks in 1991-92 (49g-53a-102pts), and the Knights in 1993-94 (54g-60a-114pts). In total, he accumulated 823 points (366g-457a) in 671 minor league games.

Before turning pro, Drulia amassed 479 points (198g-281a) in 296 Ontario Hockey League games with Belleville, Hamilton and Niagara Falls from 1984-89 – a league point record that still stands today.

SCOUTING REPORT: His size will make him a physical presence to be reckoned with on the blue line... Takes away space using his determined play and his reach... Athletically gifted - has a powerful skating stride and is deceptively agile... Makes effective decisions with the puck and doesn't overcomplicate things... Will stand up for his teammates when the need arises.

QUOTEBOOK: "Jonathan is a monster, and he's not even there physically yet, so he has a lot of room for growth and strength. He plays hard, is a terrific skater for his size, and can move the puck. He's tough, he'll fight and plays physical. He does it all for a stay-at-home defenseman. We see him as a shutdown-type of blueliner that takes up a lot of ice and is hard to play against." - Predators North American Amateur Scout Tom Nolan.

WEBER STRONG ON THE BACK END

Shea Weber closed out the 2012-13 season with a four-game point streak (1g-4a), as he led the team in points (9g-19a-28pts) for the first time in his career. Weber and Phoenix's Keith Yandle were the only defensemen to lead their team in points during the 2012-13 campaign.

- Weber posted the third-most points among NHL blueliners after Feb. 13 (9g-18a-27pts, 35gp).
- Weber finished the season tied for fifth in goals, tied for ninth in points, and 14th in power-play goals (3) and power-play points (3g-9a-12pts) among blueliners.
- Nashville's captain logged more than 25 minutes on 33 occasions, and led the team in ice time in 37 of 48 games.

- He scored his fifth career overtime goal vs. Detroit on Feb. 19, giving him a career-high three-game goal streak (Feb. 16-19).
- Weber ranks third on the franchise's all-time goals list (108), while ranking fourth in points (291) and fifth in assists (183). He ranks first all-time in power-play goals (49), and second in plus/minus (+42) and overtime markers (5).
- He became the sixth player in franchise history to appear in 500 games on Feb. 25 vs. Dallas.

WILSON FINDS HIS GAME

Prior to sustaining a season-ending shoulder injury on March 8, causing him to miss the final 23 games of the season, third-year forward Colin Wilson was posting a career year for Nashville. At the time, Wilson was leading the team in points, and had posted 18 points (6g-12a) in his previous 18 outings. Wilson finished the season with 19 points (7g-12a) in 25 games.

- The Greenwich, Conn., native notched 13 points (6g-7a) in 12 home games, finishing tied for second on the team in home points.
- He recorded the first four-point (2g-2a) outing of his career on March 8 vs. Edmonton. His first point (assist) was the 100th of his career, making him the 11th Predators draft pick to reach the century mark in points for the club.
- He posted a career-long five-game point streak (2g-5a) from Feb. 12-19.
- Wilson notched his first career three-assist performance on Feb. 5 at St. Louis.

RINNE REMAINS STRONG

Goaltender Pekka Rinne was once again a workhorse for Nashville during the 2012-13 season as he tied for second in the League in appearances (43), tied for fourth in starts (42), and ranked sixth in minutes played (2,443:46). The 6-5, 204-pound Finn started 25 consecutive games from Feb. 19-April 9, the second longest streak of its kind in franchise history. He made 30 straight appearances from Feb. 10-April 9, also the second longest in franchise history.

- Rinne tied for the League lead in shutouts (5) in 2012-13, including a shutout streak of 155:06 from Feb. 10-16, a personal best and the second longest such streak in franchise history. Since 2008-09, he leads all netminders in the shutouts with 30.
- The Kempele, Finland native gave up two goals or fewer in 24 of his 42 appearances.
- He posted an 11-7-4 record, a 2.00 goals-against average and a .924 save percentage on home ice in 2012-13.
- Since the start of the 2008-09 season, Rinne ranks sixth in wins (152), fifth in save percentage (.919), tied for seventh in goals-against average (2.36).

BOURQUE SOLID IN SECOND SEASON

Second-year forward Gabriel Bourque missed the final 12 games of the season due to a knee injury that required surgery. Prior to his injury, the Rimouski, Que., native was building off a strong rookie campaign as he led the team in goals (11).

- Bourque notched seven goals and 10 points in his final 15 outings.
- Bourque tallied seven of his 11 goals on the road in 2012-13.
- Despite missing 12 games, Bourque tied for the team lead in plus/minus rating (+6).
- He tallied goals in a career-high three straight games from March 12-15.
- The 5-10, 192-pound forward recorded the team's lone shorthanded goal of the season, and was one of three Preds with multiple game-winning goals in 2012-13 (2).
- Bourque notched his second career game-winning goal, and first career power-play goal, on Feb. 14 vs. Phoenix.

A SEASON OF EVALUATION

With injuries to forwards Gabriel Bourque, Paul Gaustad, Patric Hornqvist, Matt Halischuk, Colin Wilson and Brandon Yip, Nashville fielded a forward corps that had an average age of 26 down the stretch of the 2012-13 season. Although injuries forced valuable veterans out of the lineup, it allowed Nashville to preview some of its budding talent.

- Daniel Bang made his NHL debut on April 9 against St. Louis and tallied his first point/assist three nights later on April 12 against Dallas. The 6-3, 210-pound forward recorded two points (2a) in eight games for Nashville in 2012-13.
- Forward Taylor Beck first took the ice for the Preds on March 19 at Columbus. He notched his first career NHL goal and first multi-point game (1g-1a) in his third NHL contest on March 23 vs. Columbus. Beck went on to record seven points (3g-4a) in 16 NHL games before missing the final three games of the season with an upper-body injury.
- Nashville acquired prospect forward Filip Forsberg on April 4 in a trade that sent long-time forward Martin Erat to Washington. Following the completion of the Swedish Allsvenkan season, Forsberg made his NHL debut on April 14 vs. Detroit, becoming the third-youngest player (18 years, 244 days) to don a Predators uniform (Scott Hartnell: 18 years, 171 days; David Legwand: 18 years, 243 days). The 18-year old rookie took the ice in five games for the Predators and posted his first NHL point/assist on Legwand's 200th career goal on April 23 vs. Calgary.
- Forward Kevin Henderson tallied a goal in his NHL debut on April 19 at Chicago. That marker made him the first Predator since Craig Smith to record a goal in his NHL debut (Oct. 7, 2011 vs. Columbus). Henderson went on to play four games for Nashville in 2012-13.
- Joonas Rask made his NHL debut on April 25 at Detroit – his second game on North American soil – and followed it up with his first NHL point/assist two nights later at Columbus to close out the 2012-13 season.
- The Predators most recent first-round pick, forward Austin Watson, made his NHL debut on April 7 at Chicago. He saw time in six games for the Predators in 2012-13 and tallied his first NHL goal in his final game on April 23 vs. Calgary.
- Defenseman Victor Bartley made his NHL debut on March 8 against Edmonton. The Maple Ridge, B.C., native tallied his first NHL point on March 21 against Calgary and closed out his first NHL season with four assists in his last seven games. Bartley saw at least 20 minutes of ice time in nine of his final 13 outings.

Inquiries about the Predators may be directed to Gerry Helper (ghelper@nashvillepredators.com; 615-770-2344), Kevin Wilson (kwilson@nashvillepredators.com; 615-770-2335) or Jimi Russell (jjrussell@nashvillepredators.com; 615-770-2293) of the club's communications department.

CREDENTIALS
Season passes are issued to those members of the media who regularly cover the Nashville Predators. These passes will be honored for entrance to Bridgestone Arena and all working areas for all 2013-14 regular-season home games. Single-game credentials must be submitted by email on company letterhead to Kevin Wilson (kwilson@nashvillepredators.com) by 1 p.m. on the day prior to the game in question. Press box space is limited; for this reason, the Predators cannot guarantee credentials to those members of the media who request such passes after the deadline.

Credentials will be issued only to representatives of legitimate news-gathering agencies and websites. They will be confiscated if worn by members of the media whose names do not appear on the credential. Only credentialed members of the media are allowed to sit in the press box.

MEDIA ENTRANCE
All credentialed media may enter through the employee entrance of Bridgestone Arena on Fifth Avenue (facing the Hilton Suites hotel). The entrance will be open three hours prior to face-off. Practices at the arena and morning skates are accessible through the Patron Platinum Club Entrance 100 feet south of the employee entrance. Credentials are also available at this entrance on game nights.

PHOTOGRAPHERS
Accredited photographers may receive location assignments from team photographer John Russell (johnrussell@earthlink.net) on game nights or in advance via email. In accordance to NHL Images policies and procedures, freelance photographers and roving passes are not permitted.

The Bridgestone Arena press box is located in sections 310 (television and radio broadcasts), 311 (home and visiting beat writers) and 312 (local TV crews, scouts, other media), and can be reached from the event level by taking the elevators/freight elevator near the Zamboni entrance to Level 4. Proceed to your left out of the elevators, and the press box is three sections down.

PRE-GAME INTERVIEWS
Media interviews are available outside the Predators' dressing room up to 90 minutes before each game by special request. Writers, television and radio stations seeking live or taped pregame interviews must request the coach or player and state the specific interview time to Predators communications representative AT OR BEFORE the game-day morning skate.

POSTGAME
Head Coach Barry Trotz will be available in the event-level media lounge for his postgame press conference following each home game. The Predators' dressing room will open no later than five minutes following the conclusion of the game. In the event of a team meeting, the room will open at the conclusion of the meeting. Transcriptions of both head coaches' postgame availabilities, as well as various Predators and visitors player quotes from the locker room will be distributed to the media in a timely manner following each home game. The freight elevator outside section 312 & 313 will make two express trips to the event level immediately following the game.

MEDIA WORK ROOMS
Workrooms and pregame meals are available in the media dining area on the event level in the northwest corner of the arena. These rooms open three hours before the opening face-off. BETWEEN-PERIOD TV INTERVIEWS
Requests are to be made before or during the morning skate. A communications representative will be on hand to assist with all requests.

OFF-LIMITS

NEW COMMUNITY RINK SET TO DEBUT

As a provision of the lease agreement signed between the city of Nashville and Bridgestone Arena in June 2012, a community ice rink is set to debut in Davidson County in the not too distant future. The rink development is a component of a public-private partnership between Metro and the Nashville Predators that will help continue growth of hockey in Middle Tennessee, setting the franchise up for future success. The Nashville Predators envision this rink as a springboard for creating new fans, ensuring more and more kids are putting a hockey stick in their hands at an early age.

This brand new ice-rink development at The Crossings provides tremendous benefits for the local hockey community and beyond. The creation of this facility provides an increase in hockey opportunities for players of all levels and ages with expanded leagues and classes while new physical fitness programs geared towards individuals, groups and corporations benefit the Metro Davidson community at large. Tournaments and special events to be hosted at this new centrally-located facility will generate area economic development with increases in demand for local lodging, dining, shopping and entertainment, as well as the creation new of jobs.

While this state-of-the-art facility will predominantly serve Davidson County residents within a 30-minute drive of The Crossings, it will also provide tremendous opportunities and benefits for residents throughout Middle Tennessee and beyond.

CENTENNIAL SPORTSPLEX

222 25th Avenue North
Nashville, TN 37203
(615) 862-8480

The Thomas Frist Centennial Sportsplex is operated by the Metro Board of Parks and Recreation in Nashville. The facility was made possible by a landmark land exchange between Metro Parks and healthcare provider Hospital Corporation of America (HCA). The city exchanged 10 prime acres adjacent to Centennial Park for $12 million. The money was used to build the Sportsplex.

The $20 million, 145,000 square-foot Sportsplex features a tennis center, a fitness center, an aquatics center and two full-size ice rinks. The aquatics center, named after Olympian Tracy Caulkins, has been the site of numerous U.S. Senior and Junior National Swim Meets, the YMCA National Swim Meet and, to date, still holds one of the fastest times ever swam for the men's 50-meter freestyle, set in the inaugural swim meet in February 1990 by Olympian Tom Jager.

The ice arena is home to the Nashville Predators' practice facility which opened on February 1, 1999. The building holds offices for Predators coaching staff and hockey operations department, a full dressing room, weight room and athletic training wing.

The Sportsplex is also the home of the Predators' summer development camp and training camp.

In addition, Centennial Sportsplex hosts adult hockey leagues, figure skating, numerous public sessions, figure skating competitions, ice shows, hockey tournaments and camps. In 1997, it was one of the sites for the USFSA National Championships.

Centennial Sportsplex offers instructional classes in skating, swimming and tennis, as well as public usage in each of those areas. The ice arena and aquatic area also offers special rates for parties, schools and group events. For further information, contact the Centennial Sportsplex at (615) 862-8480 or visit nashville.gov/sportsplex.

HOW TO FIGURE

Assist: An assist is awarded to the player or players (maximum of two) who touched the puck prior to the goal, provided no defender plays or possesses the puck in between.

Game played: A player receives credit for playing in a game if: i) he steps on the ice during time played or; ii) serves any penalty.

Game-winning goal: After the final score has been determined, the goal which leaves the winning club one goal ahead of its opponent is the game-winning goal (example: if Team A beats Team B 8-3, the player scoring the fourth goal for Team A receives credit for the game-winning goal).

Goal: A goal is awarded to the last player on the scoring club to touch the puck prior to the puck entering the net.

Goaltender: A goaltender receives a "W" for a win in regulation, overtime or shootout; an "L" for a loss in regulation; or an "OT" for a loss in overtime or shootout.

Penalty-killing pct.: Subtract total number of power-play goals allowed from total number of shorthanded situations to get total number of power-plays killed. Divide the total number of power-plays killed by the total number of shorthanded situations.

Plus-minus: A player receives a "plus" if he is on the ice when his club scores an even-strength or shorthanded goal. He receives a "minus" if he is on the ice for an even-strength or shorthanded goal scored by the opposing club. The difference in these numbers is considered the player's plus-minus statistic.

Power-play goal: A goal scored by a club while it has a manpower advantage due to an opponent's penalty. Following are some examples of what is and is not considered a power-play goal:

- if a club has an advantage on a minor penalty starting at 2:02 of the period and it scores at 4:02, the goal is not a power-play goal.
- if a club scores on a delayed penalty, the goal is not a power-play goal.
- if a club has an advantage due to a five-minute major or match penalty, that club is always credited with having one more advantage than the number of power-play goals it scores during that advantage, because the penalty does not expire. A new advantage begins after each power-play goal. For example, if Team A scores three goals during a major penalty, it is credited with four advantages.
- if a club is on a power-play for any length of time, it is considered to have had an advantage.
- if a minor penalty is incurred by a club on a power-play due to a major penalty, a new advantage is given to that club when its minor penalty expires, provided the opponent's major penalty is still in effect.

Save percentage: Subtract goals allowed (GA) from shots against (SA) to determine saves. Then divide saves by shots-against.

Shorthanded goal: A goal scored by a club while it is at a manpower disadvantage. The same cases apply for shorthanded as for power-play goals, but in the opposite manner.

Shot on goal: If a player shoots the puck with the intention of scoring and if that shot would have gone in the net had the goaltender not stopped it, the shot is recorded as a "shot on goal."

Shutout: If two goaltenders combine for a shutout, neither receives credit for the shutout. Instead it is recorded as a club shutout.

Tenths of a second: If a penalty or goal occurs in the last minute, the time is rounded off to the previous second (ex: if a penalty is called with 12.4 seconds left in a period, the time is indicated as 19:47 and not 19:48.)

Coaches' record: A coach receives a "W" for a win in regulation, overtime or shootout; an "L" for a loss in regulation; or an "OT" for a loss in overtime or shootout.

 NOTE: No individual skater/goaltender statistics apply for the shootout

MEDIA INFORMATION

NAME, LOGO & SWEATERS

The Predators unveiled their logo, a saber-toothed tiger, in Nashville's downtown First American Center on Sept. 25, 1997, 26 years after a fang and foreleg bone of a saber-toothed tiger were found in a cave just below the building's address. In May of 1971, excavation began at the downtown Nashville site of what today is the 28-story Regions Center. Further digging revealed a cave containing the nine-inch fang and a foreleg bone of a saber-toothed tiger, extinct for at least 10,000 years. Radiocarbon tests on revealed that it could have possibly been one of the last of its breed to exist. Scientists believe that some time during the last glacial period (15,000-80,000 years ago) part of the cave was the den of the saber-toothed tiger.

The discovery, made in August 1971, marked only the fifth of its kind in North America.

The saber-toothed tiger logo was co-designed by JDK Design of Burlington, Vermont and Dye, Van Mol & Lawrence of Nashville.

The naming of the Predators was a direct reflection of the fans of Nashville and their choice.

During the public events and through focus groups and related surveys, fans selected the name "Predators" by a two-to-one margin over the second choice. On Nov. 13, 1997, the saber-toothed tiger logo was unveiled for the first time with the Predators insignia attached to it. On Feb. 12, 1998, Head Coach Barry Trotz and Assistant Coach Paul Gardner unveiled the Predators' inaugural home and away jerseys at Cool Springs Galleria.

On Nov. 21, 2001, the Predators debuted a third jersey with a 4-3 win against the Chicago Blackhawks at Bridgestone Arena. The jersey featured an "animated" saber-tooth tiger logo on the crest and tiger skulls on the shoulders. It was retired following the 2006-07 season.

For the 2007-08 season, the Predators, along with the other 29 NHL teams, introduced the Rbk EDGE Uniform System to further meet the performance demands of today's player.

The Predators would debut a new third jersey on Nov. 27, 2009 against the St. Louis Blues. The sweaters, which features a vintage-inspired lace-up front, a subtle checkerboard pattern lining the bottom of the jersey, and a bolder and more simplified color scheme, were worn for the past two seasons, but will be set aside for the forseeable future, making way for the first logo and color scheme redesign in franchise history.

The logo and uniforms which debuted during the 2011-12 season were designed to develop a powerful, long-term brand message and help infuse new life into the Nashville Predators imagery and brand with a more contemporary, aggressive, streamlined logo that still maintains the basic Pred Head concept. A new secondary logo was also designed to represent the state flag of Tennessee and Nashville's Music City heritage simultaneously, with a guitar pick shape incorporating the three stars of the state's three grand divisions – West, Middle and East. The "Predators Gold" sweaters create a distinctive, dominant, bold look that balances traditional elements of classic uniforms, with those unique to Nashville – guitar strings in the numbering and lettering, fangs in the neck area and piano keys on the inside of the collars.

NASHVILLE HOCKEY HISTORY

In the spring of 1962, a small group of businessmen led by David Patterson put up $125,000 to place a team in the Eastern Hockey League. The Dixie Flyers, named after a passenger train said to be the oldest in the South, were placed in the nine-team league. The purple-and-gold colored Flyers played their first regular-season home game (a 2-0 loss to Knoxville) on Oct. 27, 1962 at the Municipal Auditorium. The Flyers endured a rough opening season, winning 16 games and qualifying for the playoffs, only to be swept in three games by Greensboro. However, it didn't take long for the Flyers to make their presence felt.

After losing in the 1965 Finals, the Flyers went on to win EHL Walker Cup championships in 1966 and 1967, the only two professional ice hockey titles in the city's history. John McLellan, who went on to coach the Toronto Maple Leafs, coached the Flyers. The Flyers swept each of their three playoff series' in 1966. They won the championship by going 11-0 in the playoffs and becoming the first team in minor league ice hockey ever to march through the playoffs undefeated.

In 1967, Patterson's group sold the team to a business group headed by Mark Parrish. The Cinderella '69 team reached the Finals, but lost in seven tough games to the Clinton (N.Y.) Comets in the Walker Cup Finals. Shortly after, the Flyers' attendance slipped dramatically. Barely able to scrape up enough funds to start the 1970-71 campaign, the Flyers folded following the season.

Hockey returned to Nashville when baseball guru Larry Schmittou, who brought minor league baseball back to Nashville in 1978 after a 15-year absence, did the same for hockey in July 1981. Thus the South Stars were founded, a team that played in the Central Hockey League and had the Minnesota North Stars as its NHL affiliate. The logo was a hockey player swinging a guitar representing the Music City while using yellow, orange and green.

The 1981-82 team finished fourth in its division and lost to Wichita, 3-0, in the first round of the playoffs. Gene Ubriaco, who went on to coach the NHL's Pittsburgh Penguins and 1992 Italian Olympic team, coached the Stars.

Under new ownership (Randy Van Meter), the Stars pulled out of the CHL in 1982 and entered the old Atlantic Coast Hockey League (ACHL), playing teams geographically closer to Nashville. The Stars finished 11-43-4 and suffered through a season of low attendance. They began the following season, only to fold in December 1983.

Two Knoxville wrestling promoters, Bob Polk and Ron Fuller, rescued the sport five years later. They purchased an East Coast Hockey League franchise in January 1989. The Knights, with popular ex-South Stars player Archie Henderson as coach, attracted an astonishing 150,000 fans their first season (1989-90). While wearing red and blue uniforms adorned with the logo of a knight's mask, they made the playoffs but lost in the first round. During the 1990-91 season, Peter Horachek, former Predators associate coach, served as the Knights' head coach and director of hockey operations.

The Knights went through three ownership changes in their seven-year history. They twice went to the semifinals of the ECHL playoffs - in 1993 under ex-NHL standout and coach Nick Fotiu, and in 1995 under coach Mark Kumpel.

Perhaps the top Knights highlight came during the 1992-93 season when Trevor Jobe scored what is still a minor hockey league record 85 goals, with 76 assists, for 161 points and 12 hat tricks in his MVP season.

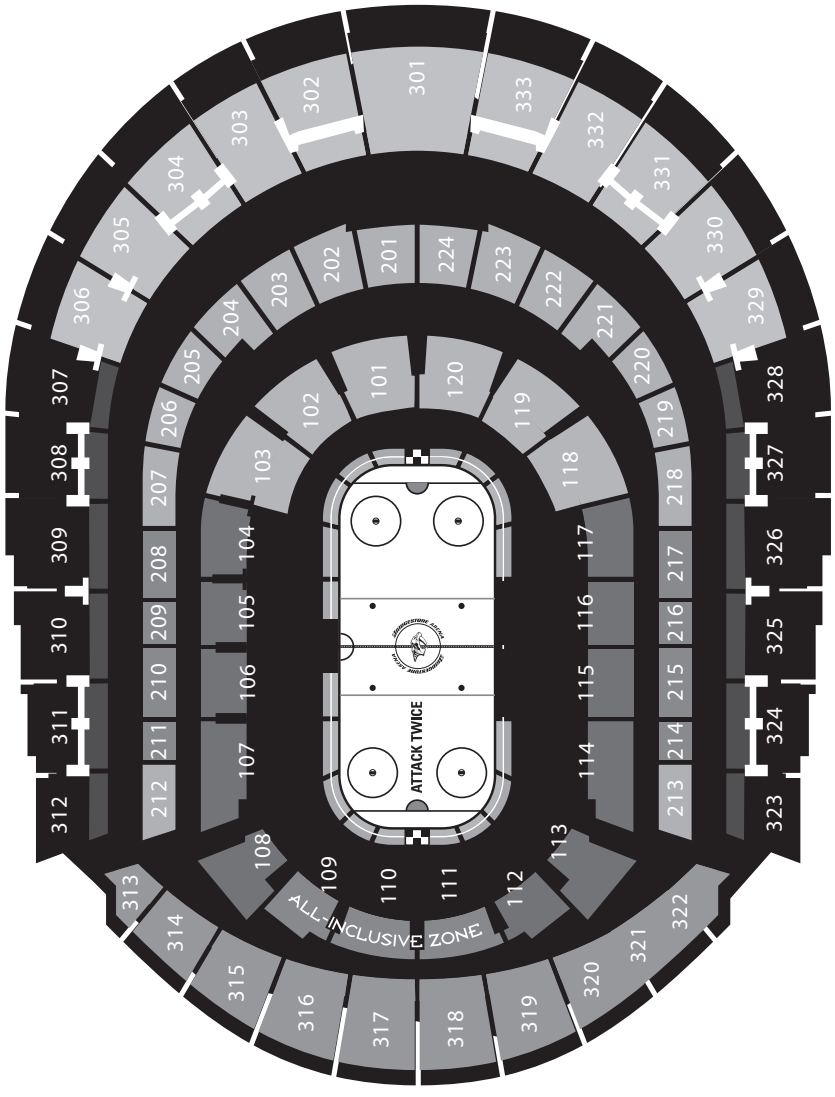

In the spring of 1996, after failed negotiations for a lease agreement with the Auditorium, the Knights departed to Pensacola, Fla. There, they were renamed the Ice Pilots.

Hockey was revived again with the arrival of the NightHawks in the fall of 1996. The Central Hockey League team only won 12 games, the worst in CHL history. The red-and-blue NightHawks' logo was a hawk showing its claws. Nashvillian Mike Friedman purchased the team in the summer of 1997. In a renewed salute to the old Dixie Flyers, Friedman changed both the name to the Ice Flyers and the colors to blue and gray. David Lohrie led the team to a 41-win season and a second-place finish in the CHL East and was named coach of the year. The team lost in the semi-finals to the eventual CHL Champ Columbus in April 1998. The impending arrival of the Predators led Friedman to move the franchise to Albany, Ga.

This closed the book on three separate chapters, a combined 21 years, of minor league hockey in Nashville, starting and ending with the team named the Flyers. Former Predators President Jack Diller is well aware and appreciative of Nashville's hockey pioneers. "The team and sport obviously made a significant impact on many people here in Middle Tennessee. Other teams such as the South Stars, Knights, NightHawks and Ice Flyers also enjoyed varying degrees of success - all of which helped fuel the excitement for the NHL and arrival of the Predators," Diller said.

Excerpted from "Hockey in Nashville before the Predators," written by hockey historian Harold Huggins and originally printed in the Predators Press: Commemorative Issue, October 10, 1998.
